

Whether or not to send the child to private school?

The majority of Russian citizens are extremely dissatisfied with the level of education and knowledge that their children are receiving in mainstream schools. The majority of teachers to improve statistics average score and put the kids undeserved inflated 4 and 5. Moreover, if the teacher had a lot of deuces, it is automatically cut wages. Of course, all this is done informally, namely, to ensure that the school's rating is not reduced and the state would continue to send the budget money. It is not surprising that most modern children do not know basic things. University graduates also do not Shine with their knowledge.

Many parents who are financially able, send their children to study in private schools. Such places are expensive though, but meet all the requirements which are imposed to them by the Ministry of education. In addition to basic school program, the children receive a huge amount of additional knowledge that will help them in the future to go to College. If you count the cost of parents in regular private school, sometimes the difference in amounts received no.

Let's say you gave the child to a regular school and plan to teach it at the University. With a basic school program today, a child can not be exam. Therefore, it is necessary to give the child to tutoring, and this is a large sum of money. Also regularly need to pay to the school Fund, to pay for food, to buy clothes essay homework help for the baby. And another thing: if you want your child enrolled in a good UNIVERSITY, maybe after school, you will need to buy the exam points to pass the competition. In the end, you spend a lot of money, but there are no guarantees that your child will get the necessary knowledge. Perhaps after graduation you will have to pay big money in order to make it to the prestigious and well-paid job.

If to send their children to private school, he will get there all the necessary knowledge and successfully pass the exams for admission. Of course, not all children are equally capable of learning some subjects. The advantage of private schools lies in the fact that the teachers are to each student find an individual approach, trying to develop its ability, to tighten up weaknesses. All this allows the child to develop their potential. Children are not downloading a huge amount of homework and try to disassemble everything in the classroom. At home the kids have time to do anything else except school. It is very important that the child is not devoted to one school only.
